And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Last fall when the Pipers were ripping off 60 to 80 yard touchdowns, the fans were calling the games track meets instead of football games. Now what do you call a track meet where the same bunch of youngsters just run away with just about everything?

The Pipers set four new records at the District meet Thursday and probably would have set more if the weather had been more favorable and the competition a little stronger. With the weather cold enough for the fans to be wrapped up in blankets, it was surprising that the times were as good as they were.

Hopefully, the weather will be more conducive to track at Odessa today and tomorrow for the Regional Meet. Just wish the meet could have been held on Friday afternoon and Saturday so that more Hamlin fans could be there.

No one that I have been able to talk to seems to understand why the meet is being held on Thursday and Friday this year instead of Friday and Saturday. As I understand it, this is the only one of the four Regional Meets that will not be held on Saturday.

Our congratulations to the Pipers on winning their third district championship this year and wish them the best of luck at Regional.

I didn't mention the beef boycott last week and will have only a short comment on it this week because I think the whole thing is ridiculous. When almost everything you buy has gone up a whole lot more than beef, then why not find something better to boycott.

It just seems odd to me that those women can drive a $2000 car that they paid $5000 for up to a supermarket to protest the price of beef. At the same time, they are probably wearing a $15 dress that they paid $40 for and a $10 pair of shoes that they paid $25 for.

Yes, beef is high, but what isn't? And based on prices 10, 20, 30 or 40 years ago it still is a better buy than most items people are buying without a protest.

The average American is spending less of his income for food now than he was in 1940. In 1940 it took 22 percent of total income for food expenditures, in 1947 this climbed up to 25.7 percent and then dropped back to 22.2 percent in 1950. By 1960 it was down to 20 percent and in 1970 it was down to 16.6 percent. Last year the average American was spending only 15.7 percent of his income for food.

I know that there are a lot of people on fixed incomes that are having a hard time at today's prices and can understand their problem. But from the best I could see, these were not the ones leading the boycott. Most of those making all of the noise were those whose incomes have likely gone up as much or more as the national average.

Really I am not too worried about the boycott because I don't believe that those people can find a good enough substitute for a good juicy steak to stay off beef for very long.

Some of you, if you have not already, will be receiving a letter from the BCD about the clean-up campaign. The various clubs and organizations in Hamlin have been assigned different areas of the city to recommend improvements that need to be made.

Those needed improvements will be pointed out to the owners or tenants of the property in the letters.

It is the hope of the BCD, the different civic organizations and all those involved in the clean-up campaign that those receiving the letters will accept them in the light that they are intended. No one is trying to embarrass anyone else, they are all

Trustees Accept Bids On Repairs, Rehire Teachers

Following the canvass of School Trustee election held here Saturday, the Board of Trustees of the Hamlin Independent School District reorganized for the coming year with all three officers re-elected. Both Lewis Earl Madden and Clyde Lewis were unopposed in their bids for another term on the board and each received all the 104 votes cast Saturday.

W. T. Johnson was re-elected president of the board following the vote canvass, with Raymond Scifres being re-elected vice president and Madden re-elected secretary.

Following reorganization, the board accepted several bids for repairs and equipment, hired teachers and support personnel for the coming year and discussed a computerized tax system.

In their first action, the new board voted to accept the low bid of Lydick-Hooks Roofing Company of Abilene of $3,597.00 to replace the roof on the Reading Center building. This is the building that formerly housed the elementary school.

Following this the board accepted the bid of Kings of Paint Rock to refinish the floor in the public school gymnasium at a cost of 20 cents a square foot, plus cost of repairs.

M and W Office Supply of Abilene was low bidder on typewriters for the typing department with a bid of $2,800.00 for six Remington manuals. The typewriters are for fall delivery.

Before rehiring teachers for the coming year the board accepted the resignations of Roger Hawser, high school math teacher; Mrs. Donley Williams, junior high teacher; Mrs. Charles Scott, high school Spanish and English teacher; and Mrs. Ethel Allan, elementary teacher.

All other teachers and support personnel were extended contracts for the coming year.

The board also approved remodeling of the Primary School Cafeteria this summer to bring that facility up to current standards. The project has been approved for a federal grant of 75 percent of the cost of the needed equipment under the Nonfood Assistance Program authorized by the Child Nutrition Act of 1966. The new equipment for the cafeteria totals $16,497.09 with the local district paying one-fourth of this cost.

The board, along with several members of the Hamlin City Council, heard representatives of the Regional Service Center in Abilene and a representative of a San Antonio based computer service center explain the computer tax service available to school districts.

The computer service can handle up to four taxing agents on one statement it was pointed out by the representatives at a first year cost of 15 cents a statement and 13 cents each year after.

The school board has been looking at a new tax system for several months now following the announcement that Haskell Carter, school tax assessor-collector, would retire this year.

Local Citizens Urged to Take Part In Drive

More than $1,000 has been received from out-of-town members and friends of the Hamlin Cemetery Association to be used toward a chain link fence to enclose the entire cemetery acreage, according to Miss Lennie Greenway, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Greenway said that the response of out-of-town persons was most gratifying. She urges local residents to send their contribution toward the project so that the work can be started soon.

Lots of visitors went to the cemetery last Sunday and more interest is being taken by local people, she said.

Other projects being undertaken by the Association include plans for a drainage system to help take care of the overflow of water caused by rains in the last few weeks. This is being supervised by Bill Rountree and Bill Moore. The Association has had two meetings to work out details.

Practice Times Set For Volleyball For Adults

Plans are being made to open the gym for adults to practice in preparation for the Future Farmers of America sponsored Volleyball Tournament to be held Apr. 26, 27 and 28.

Practice sessions for adults only will be held on the following dates: Apr. 12, 14, 17 and 19 at 7 p.m. and Apr. 18 and 25 at 8 p.m.

The competition will be in four divisions, boys, girls, men and women. Plaques will be presented to the sponsor of each of the 12 winning teams. Individual awards will also be presented by the FFA chapter to individual members of the champion, runner-up and consolation teams in each of the four divisions.

Teams and sponsors should contact Milburn Wink to be included in the tournament.

Members of both the school board and the city council have met several times in an effort to work out the possibility of combining the two taxing offices.

The school Board voted Monday evening to convert their tax roll to the computer but left it subject to negotiations with the city as to whether they will combine the office or continue to operate their own tax office.

And What Have You

just trying to make Hamlin a cleaner and better place to live.

If you receive a letter outlining some problem that is bigger than you can handle, let the BCD know and they will try to find you some help in solving it.

It is the hope of the group that the city can be cleaned through the voluntary cooperation of the citizens, but if this doesn't work, then it will be necessary to use the health and safety powers of the city to overcome some of these problems.

Sometime back, the Hamlin Cemetery Association launched a drive for money to build a $4,000 fence around the entire cemetery. Miss Lennie Greenway, secretary-treasurer of the association, along with some volunteer help sent out letters to people out-of-town seeking support for this project.

It was the hope of Miss Greenway and the others that the local people would respond without having to mail them letters or go door-to-door asking for the money. But evidently, this has not worked out too well. There has been a good response to the project, but it has all been from out-of-town sources.

Hamlin citizens, like most Americans are more than generous to most worthy causes, but we don't seem to respond unless we get a direct appeal. We want someone to ask us or at least remind us. Our intentions are good but unless someone knocks on the door and asks for our donation we just never seem to get around to giving.

Won't you sit down right now and make out a check to the Hamlin Cemetery Association and mail it to 248 Northwest Second, Hamlin, Texas 79520. The cemetery needs your support — now!

Philosopher Thinks He Has Found Where The Inefficient Farmers Have Gone

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One thinks he has discovered something this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:

I was in town stocking up on macaroni and cheese before the meat boycotters run the price up clear out of sight and while I was there picked up a 10-cent tractor belt for a quarter and a city newspaper whose price has jumped 100 percent in the past two years and when I got home sat down and read an interesting article.

It was bragging on the American farmer and his ability to produce so efficiently and abundantly despite the fact there are fewer farmers than ever before, explaining that one reason for this is that "the inefficient farmers have all been driven off the land."

Of course that's not quite right, I'm still here on this Johnson grass farm and I might be able to think of a few more around here like, well, I'd better not mention them, they're probably subscribers to The Herald, but let's assume that most of the inefficient ones have been driven off.

The next thought that occurs to me is, where'd they go? What're they doing now? In fact, where does an inefficient farmer go when he's driven off the land?

This is a hard question to answer but it's worth speculating on. For example, I'm almost sure a few of them have turned up in the Texas Legislature, and it's possible one or two may have gotten into Congress. Other likely job opportunities for them would be handling luggage for the airlines, or bugging political headquarters so incompetently they're stumbled upon by a night watchman, and some of them may have gotten into management jobs for now bankrupt railroads or aircraft plants.

But on the whole, I'd say a lot of them must have signed up with the new U.S. Postal Service. You can't make me believe that the mail service today isn't run by men at the top who are experts in inefficiency.

Personally, I'd just as soon have those farmers back on the land. They weren't bothering anybody there, and I could get a letter from here to Stamford in one day.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Likeness

The artist is capturing the physical likeness of this lovely girl on her paper. The likeness is amazing. But her inward beauty, her wonderful Christian heart and soul, can only be captured fully on God's canvas. The Bible says that "Man looketh on the outward appearance but God looketh on the heart."

How would God's painting picture you and me?

One good way to improve your heart condition is to attend church and hear God's word proclaimed from the pulpit. Learn God's plan for your life by listening to His word. We invite you to attend the church of your choice this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE HAMLIN HERALD, HAMLIN, TEXAS 79520

Services Held Tuesday for T. I. Marshall

Services for Thomas Ivy Marshall, 90, a retired rancher, were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at McCoy Chapel of Memories. Burial was in Aspermont Cemetery under the direction of McCoy Funeral Home.

Mr. Marshall, a resident of Hamlin for 12 years, died at Hamlin Memorial Hospital at 2:40 p.m. Sunday.

Born Oct. 9, 1882, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Marshall. He married Lillian Metcalf Baker at Dickens Oct. 14, 1921.

The Rev. Marshall Stewart, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Floy Gligo of California and Mrs. Fay Rice of Oregon; and three grandsons.

Pallbearers were Doug Porter, Wilder Porter, Fudge Griffith, Darwin Metcalf, Holland Metcalf and Oliver Penrod.

Clayton's Column

Springtime signals the beginning of home gardening activity and good control of sucking and chewing insects means healthier, more productive gardens.

"Sucking insects damage plants by inserting their mouthparts into plant tissue and removing plant juices," says Kirby Clayton, county Extension agent. Heavily infested plants become yellowed, wilted, deformed or stunted and may eventually die. Some sucking insects inject toxic materials into the plant while feeding and some transmit disease organisms to plants.

Some examples of sucking insects are aphids, leafhoppers, stinkbugs, squash bugs, thrips and spider mites.

According to Clayton, chewing insects cause more damage to the home garden than either soil insects or sucking insects. They feed on all parts of plants, destroying both foliage and fruit.

Chewing insects are numerous and include grasshoppers, leafminers, potato beetles, flea beetles, cucumber beetles, blister beetles, pepper weevils, vegetable weevils, corn earworms, cabbage loopers, armyworms, tomato hornworms, webworms and pickleworms.

Clayton suggests using dusts for controlling insects in home gardens. Several brands are available which will control both chewing and sucking insects.

Apply dusts when the wind is calm and force the dust through the foliage so it will reach both sides of the leaves. The suggested rate is 1½ ounces per 50 feet of row.

Sprays are prepared by mixing emulsifiable concentrates or wettable powders with water. Compressed air sprayers, Trombone or slide sprayers, and garden hose attachment sprayers can all be used. If wettable powders are used, agitate the solution while spraying to mix the insecticide. About one quart of spray should be applied per 50 feet of row.

Among recommended insecticides are diazinon which controls sucking and chewing insects and spider mites. Malathion controls chewing and sucking insects but not all species of spider mites. Dicofof (Kelthane) ethion and sulfur are recommended for spider mites only. Methoxychlor is recommended only for chewing insects while carbaryl (Sevin) will control insects but only some sucking insects.

"When using any insecticide, it's very important to read the instructions to insure proper use and handling," cautions Clayton. "special attention should be given to restrictions on the length of time from last application of an insecticide to harvesting."

Cultural practices also play a significant role in reducing or eliminating many insect problems in home gardens, adds the agent. Mow lands closely and dispose of any trash, boards or old plant debris in the area. Keep soil at maximum fertility level and well watered. At the end of the season remove all plants and plant debris.

Services Held Saturday for Bill Milliorn

William Milton (Bill) Milliorn, 63, a former Hamlin resident, died suddenly at his home in Odessa at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Services were held Saturday at 10 a.m. in Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Chapel in Odessa.

Born in Alby, he moved to Hamlin when a child and was in the grocery business here for several years. He was owner and operator of a grocery store and barbecue business in Odessa at the time of his death. He was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include one son, Leon of Orlando, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Roy (Faye) Cooper and Mrs. Johnnie (Kay) Woods, both of Hamlin; three sisters, Mrs. Lois (Frances) Hill of Aspermont, Mrs. Marid Johnson of Houston and Mrs. James (Dorothy) Craig of Baytown; three brothers, Pat of Campwood, Alfred and Monroe, both of Houston, and several grandchildren.

Burial was in Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Two Charged With Felony Narcotics Here

ANSON — Felony narcotics charges were filed here Tuesday against two young Hamlin residents in connection with a Friday arrest there by local law enforcement officers and three narcotics agents from Abilene.

Three growing marijuana plants, along with more than one-half pound of marijuana, were confiscated when the lawmen executed a search warrant issued by Hamlin municipal Judge A. B. Carlton. "Possession of marijuana" charges were filed against the owner of the house, Terry Max Bailey, 19, of Hamlin.

Crystal Ann Walton, 20, also of Hamlin, was charged with "possession of narcotic paraphernalia," three pipes allegedly used for smoking marijuana. She was arrested when she drove up to the Bailey residence during the search, officers said.

Investigating the case were

Jones County Sheriff Woodrow Simmons, Hamlin Police Chief Ed Wheat, and agents Larry Faulks, John Perry and Wayne Bailey of the Abilene Police Department's Special Services Bureau.

Agents said the marijuana plants were growing in flower pots in the Bailey residence. Both were released on bond.

Trustees Are Re-elected

Running uncontested, both candidates for Trustee of the Hamlin Independent School District were re-elected here Saturday in a light vote. Clyde Lewis and Lewis Earl Madden each received all 104 votes cast.

Chris Perrin On Honors List

Chris Perrin, a senior student at the University of Texas at Austin, is listed Magna Cum Laude (among the upper 4.5 percent of the 5,494 students enrolled in the college of natural sciences for the fall semester, 1972) on the dean's honor list.

Chris is a graduate of Hamlin High School and son of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Perrin, former residents, now of Cameron.

HIGHWAYS FOR NICKELS?

"Fill 'er up with regular."

That's the typical order of an automobile owner as he wheels up to a gasoline pump. His wants, really, are quite simple: Fuel for the hungry horses under the hood, and enough of it to travel 200 miles or so down the road.

If he thought about it, the transaction would seem a bit more complicated: He is actually buying the highway.

And for cash—in advance.

It's such an easy payment plan, though, that he hardly misses the money.

Take a Texas driver: Every time the pump clicks off a gallon, he can count on leaving a nickel for the road. (That's the Texas gasoline tax: 5 cents a gallon, the cheapest in the nation.)

He leaves another 4 cents for federal aid. (That's the federal gasoline tax.)

The nickels add up: Probably $1.80 for a tank of gas. Maybe $50 a year for an average driver. And about $510 million a year for the State Highway Fund.

Pretty good nickel-and-dime business. Add in $153 million from motor vehicle fees, and the total pays for a year's highways—construction, maintenance, administration and policing. It has to be spent that way—if we are to meet Texas' growing transportation needs.

That's the way you build our highways ... when you "fill 'er up with regular."

Oh wow! Our guys have done it again. They've captured another district title for us and this time it is "District 5AA Champions!! And if you didn't go to Anson to support our team you didn't hurt anyone but yourself because you really missed some fantastic sights. You see, this team of ours is unlike any other. Each member is an outstanding individual with his own special trait that makes him different. But as a team they support each other in representing our school as if they were brothers regardless of race, religion or ability.

As I watched the mass of green uniforms called the Pipers before the final events joking, relaxing, helping each other prepare I saw a team. Yet during each event, as a member of our team rounded a corner, broke a string, or cleared a hurdle I saw a striking individual, someone I knew as a friend and classmate. And the strength of Ray Scifres, the power of Albert McAfee and Steve McKissack, the speed of Johnny Jones, the spirit of Bill Cork, the grace of David Willis, the seriousness of Alfred McAfee and Steve Evans all merged together to form a brotherhood of athletes and for one tiny moment I saw all of the jealousy, prejudice, and difference disappear and our team was proud and happy and that was really beautiful!! Congratulations guys, that's a great accomplishment.
